

Election Turnout Termed Good

Two new selectmen and one new school committee member joined the town's official family in what was considered a good voter turnout in Monday's annual town meeting.

Norma Gammon joined Selectmen Susan T. Poore for three year terms on the board of selectmen and Atty. Lawrence J. Sullivan will serve a one year term, while John Eaton topped the school committee race in joining Joseph Finn, re-elected to another three year term.

concern over use of the High School gymnasium as a single polling place for the election had been expressed prior to the election, but the turnout of 3,672 voters out of the 15,000 plus registered, was considered good by election officials.

Town election characteristically attract a low voter response, thus the slightly better than 20 per cent turnout was termed good for this first time use of the single voting location. A year ago, with only a single contest on the ballot, there under 3,000 votes cast.

While there was concern about the voter turnout, Town Clerk Elden R. Salter had to turn his attention to another worry as the returns were being processed.

For the first time in the ten year period the town has been using the computer punch cards, the machinery broke down Monday night. Six precincts had been tabulated and posted at the town hall. Following a lengthy delay, during which candidates themselves were anxiously awaiting the final tally, Salter came to the

Tax Cap Threat Now Faces Tenured Teachers

Another 300 staff members are about to get Dear Teacher letters from the Andover schools.

The school committee voted Tuesday night to notify all tenured teachers that they too will not be rehired for next year until the tax cap-budget situation is squared away.

At the same time, the committee asked Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert to lengthen his list of potential expense budget cuts to meet a possible zero percent increase budget, and defended against charges that they were picking "emotional" items to get the town's support for a budget override at town meeting.

Some 66 non-tenured teachers were notified last week that they would not be rehired, pending resolution of the money situation, and Seifert recommended Tuesday that the same action be taken for their tenured counterparts.

Finance Committee Chairman Donn Byrne turned up with the "latest" word from Beacon Hill, that the four percent cap is "out" and a zero cap might be coming.

A legislative vote is at least another two weeks away, after the April 15 deadline by which teachers must be notified if they're not going to be invited back.

Agreeing with new Chairman Elaine Viehmann that it would be "inappropriate" to commit the town to contracts for which it might not get the money, the committee voted unanimously for the action.

Business Manager Edward Maguire emphasized yesterday that the action is really a safety valve, and that the "expectation is that 99.9 percent or 100 percent of the tenured teachers will be rehired."

However, if some programs have to be cut to get down to zero percent, some teachers will likely have to go too.

Committeeman Casimir Kolaski then suggested that Seifert might as well start getting his list together — that controversial list of possible cuts that has already reached many non-core areas of the curriculum.

A total of $476,000 would have to be cut from the committee's already tight 8.2 percent budget, to get down to four. Getting down to zero would mean nearly a million dollars in cuts.

Among the areas added by Seifert Monday night for possible cutting were the community resource coordinator (including the intern and guest speaker programs), $20,000; elementary instrumental music (including the string program, Grades K through 12), $32,500; three reading specialists (leaving one per two buildings), $60,000; science materials, $9,000; new AV equipment, $25,000; A.V. software (replacement of bulbs, repairs), $10,000; youth employment service, $8,000; principals and central administration account (travel expenses, public information), $37,000; New Emphasis (such as Town Clerk Elden R. Salter informs election workers in town hall that the computer broke down and the final tallies will be delayed. Repairs to the machinery did not take too long and the results posted about 11 p.m. Monday night. It was the first problem faced by the election officials since the inception of computer voting ten years ago.

2 Old Center Historic District

THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 29, 1979

State Secretary Michael Joseph Connolly, Chairman of the Massachusetts Historical Commission has announced the inclusion of the Old North Andover Center Historic District in the National Register of Historic Places.

"The Center, once a crossroad for Boston, Salem and Haverhill, is now primarily a residential area," stated Connolly. "Andover was settled in 1646 by residents of Ipswich and Newbury who chose the site for their meetinghouse. With the addition of being a major crossroad, the Center attracted shops, taverns, blacksmiths, stables and stores to the area. In 1801 the first co-educational school was established there, the Franklin Academy."

"North Andover Center continues as an historical and architectural focal point for the community."

During its growth the Center became the preferred location for homes of the well to do. This wealth is best illustrated by the Kitterage Mansion, built in 1784 after a design from Samuel McIntyre of Salem in federal style and the Captain Nathaniel Stevens House, built in 1846 by a prosperous mill owner, in Italianate style.

"The remarkable retention of styles and atmosphere in the North Andover Center Historic District is due to the North Andover Improvement Society which was organized in 1885," explained Secretary Connolly. "The Society has planted trees along the streets and purchased land to enlarge the Common. It has also acquired and restored several buildings in the area."

Few New England communities have done so much over so long a period of time to protect the historic character and appearance of an early settlement."

Secretary Connolly singled out the work of Martha Larson of the North Andover Register program is administered in the Historical Commission as being instrumental in the listing of the District in the National Register. The National Register program is administered in the Commonwealth by the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

Dolls, Toys Topic For Historians

How did children amuse themselves a century before the advent of TV? What did parents provide for their children's entertainment? Typically, children relied on dolls and toys for their amusement.

"Dolls and Toys" is the title of a free slide-show presentation by the Andover Historical Society Sunday, April 1 at 2:30 at the Blanchard House, 97 Main St.

This lecture and slide presentation is by Mrs. Gertrude Freedman of the Essex Institute in Salem. The public is invited to this insight into the life style of youngsters in the old days.

Learning News

More than half of all Americans between the ages of three and 34 are being educated, and the U.S. Bureau of Census reports that 52.3 percent of white Americans between those ages and 57.5 percent of black and other Americans of those ages are in school.

Seeking Architects For Roof

Plant Engineer Al Hart is in the process of interviewing architects to write up the bid specifications for repairs to the Bancroft School roof, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee Tuesday night.

Seifert also said that bit of consulting work would cost $12 to $15,000 — though that was "assumed" in the total roof package.

Chairman Elaine Viehmann asked if it were possible to involve the community, since "the town is rightly concerned about the school and the way it was handled in the first place."

Committeeman Casimir Kolaski suggested a public meeting to do just that.

In-Service Election Day May Coincide

The school committee may move the teachers' in-service day to election day next year, to free up more parking spaces for voters.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said Tuesday night the request had been made to move that March no-school day to election day, though Monday's meager voter turnout didn't seem to merit the change.

He recommended that the committee withhold formal action until the selectmen evaluate the first election with all of the town's voting polling places at Andover High.

The committee did, however, move next year's April vacation one week farther along. Seifert said the State Department of Education will be observing Monday, April 21 as Patriot's Day, and that if the spring break was April 14-18 as recently passed, students would be out of class six days in a row.

Spring vacation was thus changed to April 21-25, with Patriot's Day falling within the break.

Traffic Lights Awaiting Parts

The traffic lights at the intersection of Chestnut and Main streets remain on flashing awaiting parts to place them back in service.

The lights remaining on flashing sequence is due to a pair of accidents involving the control box. A truck had knocked down the box several weeks ago and parts were ordered to make the repairs.

Within a matter of days after the controls were repaired and the full stop-go sequence restored, another truck smashed the box knocking service out again.

Parts are on order and the controls reset as soon as they arrive.

Hearing On Rail Study Report

The Commuter Rail Study committee will hold a public hearing tonight at 7:30 in the library to discuss findings of the survey recently undertaken to determine whether resumption of rail service to Boston is desirable.

The committee is expected to make a recommendation to selectmen and subsequently to town meeting on rail service based on the survey results and comments from interested residents at tonight's hearing.

Vacancy On Finance Committee

Moderator James D. Doherty will have a vacancy to fill on the finance committee due to Monday's election results.

The election of Atty. Lawrence J.

Sullivan as selectman in Monday's election forced him to submit his resignation from the FinCom Tuesday morning before being sworn in to his new duties.

Community Gardeners To Meet

The Andover Community Garden Association will meet at the Memorial Hall Library at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 3. Plans for the coming gardening season will be discussed.

All current members are encouraged to attend this meeting. Newcomers interested in obtaining a garden plot are cordially invited.

Land for these garden plots is made available through the courtesy of the Andover Conservation Commission and is located in West Andover.

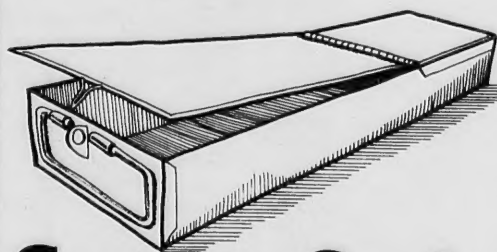

Mitchell Lecture At Library

On Wednesday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m., Don Mitchell, an inspiring, young, novelist, will be giving a lecture and readings from his new book, "The Souls of Lamb," at Memorial Hall Library.

Mitchell, who raises sheep on his small farm in Vermont, has written a contemporary fable that probes basic beliefs about life and love, good and evil. He has also written two other novels, "Thumb Tripping" and "Four Score."

Everyone is invited to participate in this program which is presented as part of the celebration of National Library Week.

Hall Exhibit At Gallery

"Visible Ghosts — Imaginary Portraits of an American Family," an exhibition of paintings by J. H. Hall, will open March 30 at the Addison Gallery of American Art. This extraordinary show features a series of portraits which are the artist's idea of what his family might have been. Accompanying them is a narrative text which threads its way through American history and Hall's lively family.

Jack Hall, a Princeton graduate and a self-taught painter, divides his time between New York and Cape Cod. Born in New York City, he worked as a reporter and wrote several novels before World War II. From the Cape he returned to the city in the fifties as an interior designer and builder.

In 1970, he went back to Cape Cod to resume his painting career, although he continues to work as a designer remodelling old houses around Wellfleet. He has exhibited in three one-man shows, shown in numerous group shows, and has a least 60 paintings in private collections.

"Visible Ghosts" is a montage of Hall's talents. The "silent humor" of rows of ancestors, each endowed with special qualities of elegance and possibly crossed eyes at the same time, gives a very hilarious picture of American history. The images are simple, but the style is very sophisticated. The vigorous subjects are wrapped in subtle colors and soft lines.

Under each portrait is a small biography — a witty summary of each person's identity-crisis. We are spared the real-life longings and second rate embarrassments of pioneer roots. Hall has the ability to distill the madcap. Instead, this exhibition captures the gentility and humor often missing from American Heritage.

The public is invited free of charge to the opening on Friday, March 30, at 7 p.m., and for the duration of the show, which will run through April 29.

The Addison Gallery is located on the campus of Phillips Academy, off Route 28, in Andover. It is open from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. every Tuesday through Saturday, and from 2:30 - 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Walkathon Sunday For FAST

On Sunday, April 1, the F.A.S.T. (Fight Against Starvation Today) Committees of East Jr. High, West Jr. High and Andover High School, will sponsor their first annual "Foosteps For F.A.S.T." Walk-a-thon.

The day will begin with registration of all walkers from 8:15 to 8:30 at East Jr. High. This will be followed by an ecumenical service in the park next to the junior high at 8:30. The walk will begin at 8:45, and will go twenty minutes through Andover with check point stops at South, Sanborn and West Elementary Schools as well as St. Robert's Parish and the park behind what was formerly Sacred Heart. The money made in this Walk-a-thon will be sent to two world-help organizations, CARE and OXFAM, and will be the culminating event of the week-long F.A.S.T. program.

If interested in either walking or helping out by working at the various check points, contact either Gary Hendrickson at East Jr. High; Patricia Dye at Andover High School or Bruce DeWire at West Jr. High.

Mock Town Meeting

The Andover League of Women voters is sponsoring a Mock Town Meeting, Wednesday, April 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the East Junior High Cafeteria.

The purpose of this meeting is to give the School Building Committee an opportunity to practice their presentation on the School Advisory questions as appearing on the Town warrant.

The league has invited the selectmen, the finance committee, several boards and committees, as well as the town manager, the superintendent of schools and the community developer.

The League of Women Voters is providing this opportunity for clarification of the school building project before town meeting. The public is welcome.

"Cakewalk-A Summer Outing," an adaptation of Hershy Kay's compositions based on Gottschalk's ballet, "Cakewalk," set the theme for Adventures In Music's 1978-1979 student participation concert on Sunday, April 6, at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the Reading Memorial High School auditorium.

The curtain will rise on a stage full of instrumentalists ready for the downbeat of Emma Lou Demer's "Youth Overture For Young People's Orchestra." Fifteen student instrumentalists ready for the downbeat of Emma Lou Demer's "Youth Overture For young People's Orchestra." Fifteen student instrumentalists from Andover will perform with the professional orchestra. Composition contest winners will have their works orchestrated by A.I.M. music director, Newton Wayland, and performed by the professional orchestra. All winners will receive a tape of the orchestration and selected composers will play their own pieces.

The final portion of the concert deals with dance. Choreographer, Lois Hofmann, assisted by Karen Mahoney, has created a series of scenes based on "Cakewalk." Andover students: Aram Krauson and Felicia Goldberg, have been rehearsing weekly for the past two months, promising an exceptional performance.

For concert information contact Mrs. David Workman, town chairman. For ticket information contact Mrs. Richard Nichols, town ticket representative.

The theme for National Library Week this year is "The Library is Filled with Success Stories." Accordingly, Memorial

Lecture

"What's New About the New Religion?" will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Dr. Orlo Strunk, Jr. at 7 p.m. on Sunday, April 1 in the Library Auditorium at Merrimack College. The public is invited, and admission is free.

Dr. Strunk is professor of Psychology of Religion and Pastoral Psychology at the Boston University School of Theology. He is the author of over 100 articles and is managing editor of "The Journal of Pastoral Care."

Hall Library will honor some of Andover's most successful townspeople at a reception at the Library on Sunday afternoon, April 1 from 3-5 p.m.

Prizewinners of the Children's Room poster contest on "What my library means to me" will also be announced. The latest new books will be displayed and refreshments will be served by the Library Trustees.

Everyone is invited to attend the open house and reception.

REAL ESTATE EXAM COURSE

A 10 week course, "Preparation for Real Estate Broker's Examination" will be conducted for men and women by the Essex County Adult Education Center at the Lawrence Y.M.C.A. beginning Wednesday, April 18. Classes will meet weekly from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. This course is a thorough prep for the broker's and salesmen's state examination. Hundreds of area men and women have successfully completed this course and obtained their broker's license. An experienced real estate broker and an attorney specializing in real estate law will conduct class lectures.

Advance registration is required and will be held in Russell Hall on Wed. evening, April 4, from 7 to 8:15 p.m.

Roasted With CLASS

"A Royal Roast for a Rare Lady" was the title of the fundraiser, at which Dr. Nina Scarito, obstetrician, gynecologist, arts patron and fund raiser; was royally roasted by some 850 friends and colleagues, at the newly enlarged Sheraton Rolling Green, Emerald Room.

Proceeds went to the Citizen League for Adult Special Services (CLASS, Inc.) which plans to begin construction this Fall on a building to house programs for the over 18, adult retarded in the Greater Lawrence area, on land adjacent to the Vocational School.

Dr. Larry Larsen, president of CLASS, welcomed the large group and turned the program over to toastmaster, Dr. William O'Reilly. Singing to the tune of "look for the union label," he led the group in his song of the "Scarito Label," the imprint of a hand on a newborn baby's bottom. Dr. Larsen appeared as "Horatio Kumquat" her first baby, and Dr. Raphael F. Borrelli as her first gynecological patient. Dr. George Dawson, regaled the audience with a humorous play of Dr. Scarito's telephone calls.

Greetings came from Gov. King and Sen. Paul Tsongas, and Rev. John A. Coughlan, president of Merrimack College, and Lawrence Mayor LeFebvre, made special presentations.

Other roasters were Sally Pahigian of Quota Club, Methuen School Supt. Dr. Paul Zdanowicz, Mrs. Anthony J. Ippolito of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic, William Lane, Alton Noyes, and Judge Paul J. Perocchi. Dr. Santo S. Cataudella sang "Because We Have You As A Friend," special lyrics by Dr. William R. O'Reilly.

A portrait in pastels of Dr. Scarito, was unveiled by Rosalie Ruggiero and Ann Concemi co-chairperson at the close of the evening; which is to go into the Dr. Nina Scarito wing of the intended vocational center/workshop for the adult retarded. The portrait was executed by Mrs. Joseph DiScullio of Reading.

Several organizations including Bon Secours and the Quota Club, of which Dr. Scarito is a past president, made substantial contributions to CLASS, in her name.

Dinner music was provided by the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic and dancing music by the Frank Lawlor Quartet.

Cheese Popular

Cheese popularity seems to be spreading. The average American now consumes 16 pounds of cheese a year according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In 1960, the figure was 8.3 pounds per person.

FinCom's Bob Merrill and Larry Sullivan

A Positive Atmosphere

Atty. Lawrence J. Sullivan, successful in his attempt to gain a seat on the board of selectmen, looked forward to Wednesday night's first meeting of the new board with the hope of contributing toward creating a positive atmosphere in conducting town affairs.

Sullivan scored a narrow win over Thomas P. Stark in the race for the one year term caused by the resignation of Selectman Albert Cole.

A member of the Finance Committee for the past year, Sullivan resigned that post Tuesday morning before being sworn in as selectman by Town Clerk Elden R. Salter.

It was his second try for a seat on the board, losing out narrowly three years ago, placing third in a seven man field.

The Andover native who is in private law practice with his father, has also served as a member of the town's Industrial Development Commission and is a vice president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Sullivan complimented his opponent Thomas Stark for a well-run campaign and the impressive vote he garnered.

Sandy Stark said this week they would have been winners either way. At least with husband Tom losing to Sullivan for the one-year seat, she said, he'll be home on Monday nights.

Stark supporters were congratulating him on showing as well as he did the first time out, while the candidate himself said he would have to re-evaluate the situation before deciding whether to run again next year. He did say he felt he had learned a lot, and that he was glad to have had the experience of a campaign.

Don's Birthday Gift: Norma Gets Elected

It was a birthday Don Gammon isn't likely to forget.

Surrounded by a host of family and friends at their Abbot Street home, Gammon and wife Norma waited out the computer breakdown Monday night and finally, received word that Norma had won one of the two, three-year Selectman seats.

Then a giant cake for Don, candles ablaze, appeared through the front door.

The dual celebration carried on, with winners Larry Sullivan (Selectman) and John Eaton (School Committee) joining in after their own parties had broken up.

Mrs. Gammon, a local history buff who headed Andover's Bicentennial celebration, made a little history herself Monday night. She and brother George Heseltine, who served two terms as Selectman became the first sister-brother team to have served in that office.

Save On Heat

On Heating bills alone, you may be able to save from 15 to 30 percent by weatherstripping and caulking windows. In fact, if every household were caulked and weatherstripped, the equivalent of 580,000 barrels of home heating fuel could be saved every winter day.

She is also the sister of Charles Heseltine of Andover, and daughter of Mrs. Harold Heseltine of Washington Park Drive.

Norma credits her own "organization" with her ability to juggle a campaign and a household at the same time. Between day time she decided to run and the campaign began she put 33 meals and the hors d'oeuvres for her after-election party in the freezer. With tax cap, budget and town meeting ahead, she says she's glad there're some left over.

To relax between campaign commitments and phone calls, she said she whipped up a bathrobe, two blouses and a skirt.

But she enjoyed doing her research-type homework during the campaign, and says town employees very responsive to her questions.

One of the things she's particularly interested in right now, is determining how the central polling place worked out on Monday, to see if that practice should be continued. She said it seemed to be a big concern for a lot of people in the past few weeks.

Lumber Demand

America's demand for lumber and paper will double by the year 2020. The industry gets more than in the past from logs, however. At one time, up to 50 percent of some logs went unused. Today, these "waste" pieces are routinely converted into chips for pulp and paper mills.

With millions of tons of chips so used each year, hundreds of thousands of acres of forest land need not be prematurely harvested.

oral history project), $5,000; Texts replacement of 10-year-old first grade reading books and references materials in the secondaries), $50,000; Achievement Testing, $5,750 and school committee expenses (public notices, special committees such as declining enrollment and computer advisors), $5,000.

The list of possible cuts presented last week, included the Phillips Academy, gifted and talented and outdoor education programs, custodial assistance in the cafeterias, busing to the traditional Program and half the athletic budget, as well as reduction of aide time, cutback of busing to the state minimums, aide time and an increase in the teacher: pupil ratio.

Mrs. Viehmann expressed concern that people "seem to think we've picked items with the greatest wallop."

She said they have tried not to affect the basic teaching program, and have been eyeing programs that affect the smallest number of people and can be replaced by other alternatives. For instance, she said, they had cut the driver education budget, but the program will still be available through the school for those who wish to pay the whole tab themselves.

Joseph Finn said "people are saying we should come forward with items that aren't emotional, but we're very hard-pressed to find an area that's not sensitive."

Kolaski agreed that it was unfair to say they had "set up" a list.

He said there seems to be tremendous public apprehension about the severity of cuts on the quality of education. "It's all been programs at this point..." he said, "unfortunately ones that people value."

Seifert added that there is no money for computer assisted instruction in the budget. In fact, some $30,000 for that program was withdrawn before they even came in with the first round of budget requests.

Discussion on the various cuts suggested so far will be held at a future school committee meeting, with notice going home in advance to parents.

Presently, two-thirds of everything we use could be recycled, Massachusetts Audubon notes. We need to discard our throwaway mentality.

A golden eagle nesting site in the Adirondacks will be protected by setting aside the surrounding 500 acres in an agreement between the International Paper Company and The Nature Conservancy. Lumbering and dwellings will be prohibited. There are five known active golden eagle nests east of the Mississippi River, Massachusetts Audubon says.

Small Cars

The U.S. Government (66 departments reporting) saves energy by using small cars, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

Between 1975 and 1977, the number of standard-sized cars was reduced by one-half; the number of small cars tripled.

This week, Andover High, in conjunction with the two junior highs, churches and other civic organizations, is presenting FAST week.

The students involved visited the elementary schools last Wednesday, explaining what this program is about. On Friday an assembly was held for the junior highs and one for the high school (this was held in West's auditorium), explaining about the program and the upcoming events.

Thursday, some of those involved went to the State House, where they witnessed Governor King's signing what officially declared this FAST week.

The high school is also helping its community by running a canned food drive. All the collected foods will go towards needy people in the Merrimack Valley area.

Throughout the week lecturers and speakers from many needy countries have been talking to different classes and informing them about those less fortunate than they.

A Vote Of Confidence

Selectman Susan T. Poore, re-elected to another three-year term in Monday's election, viewed the victory as a vote of confidence.

"I was pleased with the turnout and with the margin of victory," Mrs. Poore said shortly after the returns were official Monday night.

She looks upon the present makeup of the board as being good to work with, with newcomers Lawrence Sullivan and Norma Gammon. A good working relationship with other members is essential to getting things accomplished, Mrs. Poore feels.

Mrs. Poore, who served one year as chairman of the board during her first three-year term, was hesitant to comment on issues facing the board and the town in the coming months and years, reflecting rather on the victory until Wednesday night and the organizational meeting of the board at Memorial Hall library.

As part of her campaign, Mrs. Poore got some non-voters involved in the Democratic process, using students at both the high school and elementary school level as volunteers for various electoral assignments.

She said she was pleased not only with the work of these young people but grateful to all who assisted in the successful campaign.

Moossa Elected Vice-Pres.

Walter F. Moossa, CFA, of Andover, has been elected a vice president of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, Wakefield. Mr. Moossa manages the company's fixed income investments.

He has a Doctor of Laws degree from Duke University, and an MBA from Babson College taken in 1974. He completed undergraduate work at Clark University where he received a BS degree in 1958. Mr. Moossa joined American Mutual as an assistant vice president in 1976.

He and his wife, Sheila, have two children, Mary and John.

East Junior High Happenings

By Jennie Caffrey

Last Friday night a dance was held at East to kick off F.A.S.T. Week. F.A.S.T. stands for Fight Against Starvation Today. Through such activities as the dance, a foodless bake sale, homeroom contributions, a rice and water lunch Wednesday, and a walk-a-thon, East hopes to meet its goal of raising $3,000 for the poor and starving of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

The boys' gymnastics team coached by Kenneth Maglio, consists of fifty-one eighth and ninth grade students. Captains this year are Geoff Reichert, Jeff Olsen and Joe Manning. Outstanding all-around performers of this year's team are David Ouelette and Dan Igoe. The team's first meet, originally scheduled for yesterday, has been rescheduled for this Friday.

East's annual table tennis tournament drew 120 participants this year. Players were matched by grade levels in a double elimination tournament. Winners were: Grade 7: Kim Ferance and Marc Pierrat; Grade 8: Kara Gemmell and John O'Connor; Grade 9: Emily Gerson and Andy Dion.

The winners were presented trophies by Charles Labelle, the faculty advisor. Ribbons were also presented to all finalists including: Hai Dang, Nancy Atanasoff, Ralph Delatto, Marianne Ponti, Michael Donlan, Julie Johnson from Grade 7; Tammy Doyle, Jerry Witt, Janna Caldwell, Bill Murphy and Bob Weil from Grade 8; Bill Depper, Ellen Murphy, John Park, Sue George, John Atanasoff and Monica McKinley of Grade 9.

Cloonan Is IRS Director

Joseph H. Cloonan

Joseph H. Cloonan of Derry, N.H. has been promoted to Director of the Internal Revenue Service Center here, it was announced today.

He succeeds M. Eddie Heironimus who has been promoted to Deputy Assistant Commissioner in the IRS national office, Washington, D.C.

Director Cloonan has been Assistant Director of the Service Center for five years. The Service Center processes returns from the six New England states and upstate New York.

During the past year Andover employees processed an estimated 10.6 million individual and corporate returns representing an estimated $32.1 billion.

A career government official, Director Cloonan began his IRS career in 1960 in the Syracuse, N.Y. district office. He later held a series of increasingly responsible positions in the Boston District, the Kansas City, Mo. and the Covington, Ky. Service Centers. In 1973 he was selected in national competition for the IRS executive development course.

The IRS Executive Selection and Development Program is one in which officials who demonstrate executive potential received specialized training in preparation for higher level appointments.

Upon completing the program Cloonan was named assistant director at Andover.

He is a native of Oswego, N.Y. He earned a B.S. in sociology at LeMoyne College and an M.P.A.

from Syracuse University.

He also studied at the University of Virginia. He is a Navy veteran.

Director and Mrs. Cloonan have seven children.

Charles Hayes with Philip Salamone

They Like 'Old-Townies'

Phillip J. Salamone was at his home on Carisbrooke St. hosting a party on election night. By 11:30 p.m., the party had broken into two factions: a group watching a basketball game in the living room and a group chatting in the kitchen.

Salamone, in the kitchen, had heard the election results.

"I'm not saying anything tonight," he said.

He explained why. "I understand that the machine broke down, so I'm assuming they are preliminary results," he said. "So far it looks like I'm third."

Salamone was running for a three-year selectman's seat.

Tuesday, after confirming the voting results, Salamone said he congratulated winners Norma Gammon and Susan T. Poore.

He speculated on why he lost.

"After running twice for selectman," he said, "I've observed that in selectmen's races, as opposed to school committee, voters tend to be more for the old-townie types."

He has been living in Andover for eight years, he said, and views his not being a native as a disadvantage, "a substantial one."

He said he will not run again.

"That's the last race for me," he said.

Aerobic Dancing Offered

A new Aerobic Dancing session is scheduled to begin April 2.

Aerobic means "with oxygen" and refers to any vigorous activity that causes the heart and lungs to work hard and demand increased amounts of oxygen over an extended period of time.

Oysters Rockefeller

The famous dish baked with oysters, spinach and bacon, called Oysters Rockefeller, is said to have originated in 1899 at Antoine's, the famous New Orleans restaurant. Story has it that the dish got its name when a customer took a taste and exclaimed, "It's as rich as Rockefeller."

Capybara

The capybara, a 150-pound rodent of South America, resembles a guinea pig, wallows in mud, forms herds, eats grass and aquatic plants, retreats to water for safety and barks like a small dog. Capybaras are hunted for meat and fur. In Venezuela they are raised commercially, the first game ranching for meat in South America, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Edward Kaufman

Might Run Again

Edward Kaufman, candidate for school committee in this year's spring election, awaited election returns in the lobby of town hall Monday night.

With six of the eight precinct results posted on a bulletin board in the lobby, Kaufman said, "I'm not doing too good. I don't stand a chance."

At that time he was trailing Joseph A. Finn and John S. Eaton by about 1100 votes.

He said that during his campaign he had met and spoken to many Andover residents, and was glad of the chance to have done so.

About his then-apparent defeat, he said, "I'm new to the town. I think that probably had a lot to do with it."

However, he said he is already considering running again for school committee next year. By then townspeople should know him better.

He said that he was interested in an appointment to the seat on the school committee to be vacated by Casimir Kolaski, but did not think he would be selected because the current board is more conservative than he.

He left town hall shortly after town clerk Elden Salter announced that the results from the final precincts were being delayed because of a computer malfunction.

Recycling Auction Set For May 5

The Andover Sixth Annual Recycling Auction will be held on Saturday, May 5, at the Cardinal Cushing Gym on Haverhill Street. The Auction will not be held at Recreation Park this year because the building burned down last summer.

The Andover Recycling Committee urges the townspeople to think "Recycling Auction" as they spring clean. The auction depends upon your donations of furniture, toys, sports equipment, and household items. Free pick-up service will take place again so call 475-5864 to make arrangements.

Articles valued over $20. may be auctioned on consignment. The flea market will again be part of the Auction, as well as the $2, $3, and $5 item tables.

All proceeds benefit the Town of Andover.

Make your "spring cleaning" a joy; support Andover's commitment to recycling!

"A kind word is better than a big pie."
Russian proverb

Units On Meeting Warrant

The Andover League of Women Voters will feature town warrant units on April 5, 9, and 10.

Among the topics to be discussed will be the zoning bylaws, the transfer of funds for conservation lands, acquiring conservation in the Forest Hills area, amending the zoning bylaw on CBD parking, disabled or aged vote by mail, property equalization and the town's solid waste contract, as well as others.

The meetings will be held on Thursday, April 5, at 7:45 p.m. at Marie Sanella's, 8 Wethersfield Drive; Monday, April 9, at 12 noon at Margot Bixby's, 17 Stinson Road; and on Tuesday, April 10 at 9:15 a.m. at Sandra Kent's, 2 Alonesos Way. Babysitting will be available for Tuesday's meeting. Contact Sue Redgate for details.

Children's Classic

"Beauty and the Beast," the well-known children's fairy tale, is coming to the stage to delight young and old alike. The Boston Children's Theatre will be presenting seven performances of this delightful play at New England Life Hall during school vacation week April 17, 18, 19, 20, and Saturdays, April 28, May 5 and 12 at 2 p.m.

The cast, chosen from the theatre's own creative drama classes, will be under the direction of Jeanne Nelson Armin of Cohasset, with settings and lighting by Kim Sammis, costumes by Lynn Kessinger and make-up by Ellen Gainer.

Group prices are available for churches, scouts, temples, birthday parties, schools, etc. For information and reservations, write or call the Boston Children's Theatre, 791 Hammond Street, Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

Comedy

Moliere's madcap comedy classic "Scapan" will be presented by Salem State Theatre in the cabaret-style Callan Studio Theatre at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. on April 5-7 and 19-21.

According to Mr. David George, Artistic Director for the Theatre company, "We are producing a truly unique and enjoyable interpretation of Moliere. "Scapan" deals with the author's frightfully funny distaste for courts, the law, arranged marriages, and parental discretion.

A Relaxing Victory

Joseph Finn

Finn supporters got to go home early Tuesday night, with the incumbent school committeeman a "sure winner" long before the computer broke down around 10 o'clock.

Relaxing in corduroys and running shoes — though he admitted he didn't "run" very hard during the campaign — Finn said he was just "an interested parent" who enjoyed the satisfaction of "knowing you're doing something for your kids and others too."

Coming in second (by 19 votes) to newcomer John Eaton "doesn't bother me," he said. Confident all during the campaign, he said he had been reluctant to ask people to give up time and effort on his behalf.

In any event, the race was a far cry from three years ago, when he squeaked out a two-vote victory over Casimir Kolaski.

Finn said the prevailing concerns of townspeople he met during the campaign were the tax cap and East Jr. High.

He said people were very concerned about the potential for quality education in the town with a tax cap and that it also seemed very hard for people to accept the fact that it would cost more to renovate East Jr. High than to build a new one, and they seemed to be upset that the committee hadn't taken a stand on that question.

"They don't understand the project is really in the hands of the school building committee and not us," he said, and that the school committee wouldn't come out for any one alternative until all of the facts and figures were in.

But, he said, they generally seemed receptive to building plans.

Finn said he also heard concerns about discipline in the high school, and about making school committee meetings more open for public input.

One way, he said, would be to eliminate the "prior notice" rule for speakers at school committee meetings — and he went right about that task Tuesday night, collecting the support of all four colleagues.

Save East Gets Boost

John Eaton, a victor in his first attempt at public office in Andover, could well be assigned by his colleagues to school plant problems, based on his initial duties at this home election night.

Having topped the school committee race with 2,503 votes, Eaton found some blocked pipes in his Andover street home and proceeded to make necessary repairs.

The new school committeeman, running on a "Save East" platform was very pleased with the results which showed him topping incumbent Joseph Finn who was re-elected to another three-year term.

The New England representative for Durkee Foods, viewed his win as being a feeling of the majority of the people of Andover expressing a desire to retain East Junior High school as an educational facility.

The school building committee is recommending a new building to be placed on the East Junior High site, based on cost factors and state assistance.

But Eaton feels that the present East structure is sound and can be renovated.

"I'll have to look at the figures but I think the building should be retained as a school and I think the majority of townspeople feel the same way," Eaton said, adding, "I'd like to know the cost of renovating the building, even if we had to bypass state aid. It is a bondable item."

Eaton is also concerned about possible budget cuts and the effect such action will have on the total school program.

He sees a rough road ahead for the school committee if it has to face up to tax cap stipulations. "I don't want to wipe out programs completely, but it is going to be difficult to keep as many services as possible within budget limitations," the new school committeeman said.

Service Director At Hospital

Charles Pantazis, Food Service Manager for Seiler Corporation, has been named Food Service Director at Bon Secours Hospital effective April 2.

Pantazis will be responsible for the Hospital's total food service program. This will include direct management of the Hospital's dietary, patient and cafeteria services.

He has served with the Seiler Corporation since 1976, first as Food Service Director for Catholic Medical Center, Manchester, and presently as food service director at St. Vincent Hospital.

Bridgeport, Conn.

In 1975-1976, Pantazis served as Food Service Director at Metropolitan Medical Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he developed a shared centralized food service program with Hennipen County General Hospital.

Well acquainted with the Greater Lawrence area, Mr. Pantazis served as Food Service Director for Lawrence General Hospital from 1971-1973.

Auction Volunteers Begin Work

The Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and Methuen Go-Getters began go-getting this week, this is searching for donations for Channel 2's Auction coming up the week of June 1 through 9 and with a goal of $850,000. More than a million and a half viewers watch what has turned out to be a community event for Channel 2 which depends on public donations for its existence.

One source of contributions are those "attic treasures." While most of those donations now come from merchants, businessmen, and from artists and craftsmen contributing their works, residents have antiques in their attics that they don't want, but that someone else might be happy to pay for.

In the past, the way residents have helped out was largely through cash donations and of course through buying items at the auction itself. This year the auction is trying to include a new category of people who have nothing tangible to donate but to contribute cash. These people include doctors, lawyers, banks, real estate companies, investment companies and many others. The auction is hoping to get these contributors to donate to the auction's travel packages that are donated, as the airlines are not permitted to give away seats on their aircraft due to government regulations. With a $50 or more donation the contributor will get airtime during the auction. There is no problem whatsoever getting hotels, cars, rail tickets, sightseeing etc., but they do not sell without the air travel.

More than 5,000 volunteers, including many from the Greater Lawrence area serve as Go-Getters bringing in more than 10,000 donations to be auctioned, as well as serving behind cameras during the nine days of selling. The Go-Getters collect such items as clothing, automobiles, garden supplies, restaurant meals, services and kitchen equipment. Other larger items in the past years have included a school bus and a computer.

In addition, local artists who have donated their works, have a chance to participate, if chosen, in the pre-auction art show at the Prudential Center, May 21. This is an opportunity for artists to have their works seen by a large audience.

While cash of any amount is accepted, the auction has had to set a $50 minimum this year on the worth of the donations.

Donations to the auction are tax deductible, and businessmen get a bonus of being mentioned twice on the air, first when their item comes up for auction and second when it is sold to the high bidder.

Four teams of volunteers are scouring the Greater Lawrence area for auction items. Anyone who hasn't been contacted by a Go-Getter, but wants to donate merchandise, art, or cash to Channel 2 Auction, may call any one of the following people.

Area chairman Mrs. David Barrett. Community Relations Captains are Mrs. Glen Rodgers and Mrs. Gerald Ashworth. Andover Go-Getters are: Mrs. David Ahouse, Joseph Doherty, Jr., Mrs. Warren Kappeler, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Lee, Mrs. Douglas Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Moson, Mrs. Clinton Seeley, Mrs. David Thompson, Mrs. Leon Rudy, Mrs. Chris Corbett, Mrs. James Abramson, Mrs. Michael Baron, Mrs. Robert Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kasper, Mrs. Vahey Gulezian, Mrs. Peter Adams, Mrs. Peter Ommundson, Mrs. Richard Kluck, Mrs. Frank Hekemian, Mrs. Mark Weinstein, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Appolito.

June Wedding Planned

Susan Battles

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Battles of 8 Stevens Circle, Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter Susan to Gregory B. Andrews of Washington, D. C., son of Mrs. Larry Andrews of Mankato, Minn. and the late Mr. Andrews.

Miss Battles was graduated magna cum laude from Boston University's School of Public Communication and attended the University of New Hampshire Graduate School. She is a former speechwriter to President Jimmy Carter and officials at the Department of State.

Andrews, a graduate of Mankato College in Minnesota, serves as a Congressional Liaison Officer at the Department of Transportation and is a member of the advance team for the foreign trips of President Jimmy Carter and Vice President

Walter Mondale.

The wedding will take place at 6 p.m. on June 10 at St. Joseph's Church in Andover.

Reviewer To Address November Club

The April meeting of the November Club will be held on Monday, April 2 at the club house at 1:15 p.m. Following the social hour, the program for the afternoon will be Mae Whalen Taylor with "A Bookworm's View of Spring."

Mrs. Taylor was educated at Boston University School of Journalism and is a prominent member of the Marblehead Little Theatre. She chooses her books each month from the leading publishing houses and will select a wide and varied group for her presentation.

Greeting members and guests will be Mrs. Charles Sullivan and Mrs. Thomas Puglisi. Mrs. Frederick Gridley and Mrs. Richard Gould will preside at the tea table. Mrs. Stephen Poor will decorate the tea table. Mrs. John Hurlin and her committee will create a Spring atmosphere with individually decorated tables throughout the clubhouse.

Nursing Course

Applications are now being accepted for a 10-week nursing assistant course in the School of Allied Health Occupations at the Essex Agricultural & Technical Institute. The day school program will begin in mid-April.

A nursing assistant is an auxiliary person who works under the supervision of a registered nurse or a licensed practical nurse, and is a necessary member of the health team administering care to patients. Upon completion the student will be qualified for employment in nursing homes and local hospitals.

Win Flower Show Awards

Several local residents are award winners at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society's 108th New England Spring Garden and Flower Show.

The 1979 Spring Flower Show helped the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, founded in 1829, celebrate its 150th birthday in grand style, and a popular part of the giant show was the 13,000-member Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts exhibit "Design Reflections — 150 Years of Horticultural Art," which saluted the Society's 150th anniversary by showing how design ideals have affected flower arrangement over the years.

Including the set-up for the Flower Show's opening day, the Garden Club Federation exhibit arrangements, all done by amateurs, were changed and judged on three separate occasions, called entry days, and each time awards were presented to those arrangers whose arrangements scored a certain number of points on a scale of excellence in five different classes: The Romantic Era, the Curvilinear Motif, The Age of Abstract, The Restrained Art and The Environmental Renaissance.

Mrs. Robert Lange, Andover Garden Club, won a blue ribbon for her arrangement in the Environmental Renaissance on the third entry day; and Mrs. Norman Frost, Andover Garden Club, won a blue ribbon for her arrangement in The Age of Abstract on the third entry day and also The Award of Creativity, which is given to a blue-ribbon entry receiving a 95 or higher score with personal expression counted as one of the qualities in the scale of points.

The 1979 New England Spring Garden and Flower Show ran for nine days from March 17 through March 25 at the Commonwealth Pier Exhibition Hall during perfect spring weather and was attended by record crowds.

Guest Night Planned

The Merrimack Valley Christian Women's Club will hold a guest night at Pat's Beef House in Haverhill on Friday evening April 6 at 7 p.m. The annual guest meeting is open to all men and women in the area.

The story of the Shaker movement and the restoration of the Shaker village in Canterbury, N.H. will be the feature to be presented by the Guest, Charles Thompson, the historical director of the Shaker Village, who will accompany his presentation with slides of the Shaker Village and related material.

Shakers were leaders in industry, invention and agriculture and were noted for simplicity in their furniture and inventions. The Shaker Village has been declared a national historical site.

The dinner meeting will include also a guest speaker, Allan Emery. Emery, a former officer in the U.S. army, received a BS in math at Wheaton College. He currently is a business man in Boston and resides in Needham with his wife and two children.

Music will be provided by soloist Edward Blaine accompanied by Mary Parsons on the piano.

Reservations for the dinner event may be made by contacting Mrs. Ernest Truax of Andover. All men and women in the area are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Pereira

Pereira - Park

Karen Elizabeth Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Park, Chandler Road, Andover, became the bride of Paul Anthony Pereira, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Pereira of Saugus, at a March 3 ceremony in St. Robert Bellarmine Church.

Rev. Jon C. Martin officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a qiana gown accented with schiffli embroidery on the empire bodice and puffed sleeves. Her full length veil of imported illusion was attached to a matching cap. She carried a single rose accented with baby's breath and greens.

Regina Park of Stamford, Conn. was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sonia

Park of San Leandro, Calif., and Sally Park of Andover, sisters of the bride; Anne Roche of Pembroke and Betty Woods of Wilmington, cousins of the bride. The attendants wore matching wine colored gowns and carried cascades of carnations, snapdragons and daisies.

Edward Pereira of Saugus served as best man. Ushering guests were Charles and Robert Park Jr., of Andover, brothers of the bride; Arthur Pereira of Saco, Maine, brother of the groom and Joseph Chaves of Saugus, cousin of the groom.

Guest book attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carrier.

Following a reception at the Andover Country Club, the couple left on a wedding trip to Aruba. They will reside in Bradford.

The bride, a graduate of Andover High school and Westbrook College, is employed as a dental hygienist for Dr. Thomas Swift.

A graduate of Saugus High school and Bentley College, Pereira is employed as a supervisor for the Cressey-Dockham Co., in Andover.

Some astronomers believe that Pluto is not a planet at all, but a runaway moon belonging to Jupiter or Neptune.

Bean Supper At Church Saturday

"Many Hands Make Light Work" is the slogan of the Friendly Circle's preparations committee that will be busy at the Andover Baptist Church this Friday.

Folk Music At Church

An evening of folk music and family entertainment will be presented Friday, April 6, at 7:30 p.m. at South Church. Sponsored by the South Church Music Committee, the concert will feature folksinger Ed Parker with Patti Anderson, Frank Orlando and Doug Taylor.

Parker, who has been active in folk music since the 1960's, will present a wide variety of selections, including early American folk ballads, children's songs, protest songs of the 60's, and music by contemporary composers. The public is invited to attend.

Named To Rabbinic Cabinet

Rabbi Harry A. Roth, who has served as Rabbi of Temple Emanuel of Lawrence since 1962, has been appointed to the New England Rabbinic Cabinet of Israel Bonds, it was announced this week by Rabbinic Cabinet Chairman, Rabbi Richard M. Yellin. Rabbi Roth was the recipient of the Thirtieth Anniversary Award of State of Israel Bonds at a testimonial dinner held in his honor last December on behalf of the Greater Lawrence/Andover Israel Bond program.

The New England Cabinet is one of six regional advisory bodies which works in concert with the National Rabbinic Cabinet of Israel Bonds to plan and coordinate the year-round congregations campaign. Congregational activities such as the annual High Holiday appeals and synagogue-sponsored events on behalf of Israel Bonds play a major role in raising development funds for the State of Israel through the sale of Israel Bonds and Capital for Israel investments.

An active community leader, Rabbi Roth is a member of the Chaplaincy Committee and immediate past President of the Massachusetts Board of Rabbis; member of the Central Conference of American Rabbis Committee on Responsa since 1976; serves on the Executive Board and is a past President of the New England Region of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. He also serves as Vice-President of the Lawrence Clerical Association and is a member of the Catholic-Jewish Committee at Cenacle House in Boston.

Rabbi Roth has been a member of the Catholic-Jewish Committee at Cenacle House in Boston.

Rabbi Roth has been a member of the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health's Regional Board since 1967; serves on the Steering Committee of the Greater Lawrence Council on Alcoholism; the Mayor's Human Relations Advisory Committee; Greater Lawrence Guidance Center; Lawrence Chapter of the American Red Cross; International Institute; Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith; Jewish Family Service of the Jewish Community Council; and the Regional Board of Rotary International. In addition, he holds a certificate in Pastoral Counseling and Chaplaincy at McLean Hospital in Belmont. Also, he was among the founders and directors of both Merrimack Valley Dialogues at Merrimack College in North Andover and the Inter Faith Institute, located at St. Basil's Seminary (Salvatorian Center) in Methuen.

Curing Basement Dampness.

When you've fixed everything and you've still got dampness, try this.

Connect gutter downspouts to large clay pipes to drain the water away from the house foundation. Bury the pipes in a ditch at least 12" deep and make sure the water is discharged at least 6' from the foundation.

Science Fares Well At East

Science experiments and demonstrations were on display at the East Junior High Science Fair Tuesday night. Entrants from the seventh, eight and ninth grades showed their projects and had them judged in the gym and cafeteria of the school.

Above, Ralph Dellato, Jr., 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dellato, of Marie Drive, demonstrates how a solar panel works, using two flood-lights instead of the sun for a source of energy.

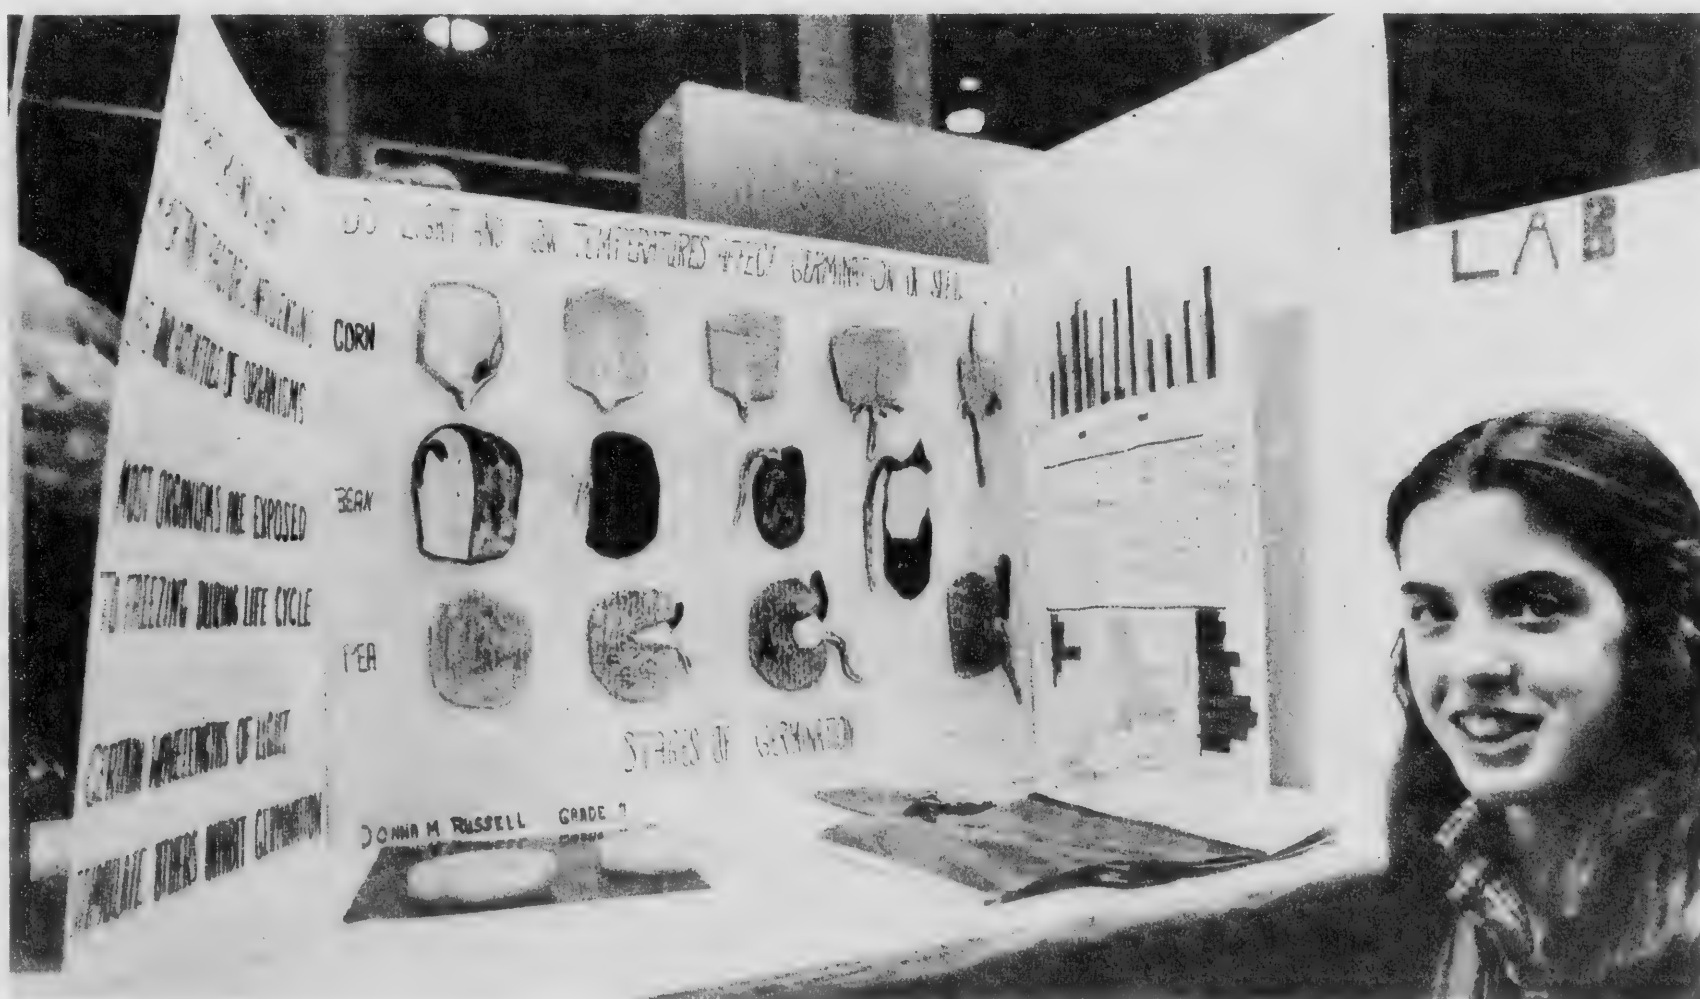

Below, Kathy Gemmell, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gemmell of Salem Street, and Liz Dowrick, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dowrick of Prospect Road, take a minute to step away from their own projects to look over other exhibits.

Russell, 13, sits in front of her display of the stages of germination of seeds. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Elysian Drive.

Mandala Folk Dance Ensemble

Mandala Group In Performance

The Mandala Folk Dance Ensemble, one of New England's leading performing groups, will present its colorful repertoire of folk dances and music on Sunday, April

Miss Pelc In Honor Society

Nancy Pelc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pelc, has been elected to Tau Beta Pi, the national engineering honor society. Nancy is completing her junior year at Duke University, Durham, N.C., where she is majoring in biomedical engineering.

Nancy has been on both the Dean's List and the class Honors List each semester. During her freshman year, she was elected to membership in Phi Eta Sigma, the freshman honor society. She has been a member of the Duke University Marching Band, the Hoof 'n' Horn, a musical drama group, and has served on the Performing Arts Committee. During the current school year, she was selected as a member of the screening committee for the Duke Endowment Award for Excellence in Teaching. She has worked in the psychology lab as part of a Research Assistance Program.

Nancy was a 1976 graduate of Andover High School. During her senior year, she was a National Merit Scholarship Finalist and winner of a Western Electric Corporate-Sponsored Scholarship award.

8 at 2 p.m. The 35 authentically costumed dancers, singers, and musicians of the troupe will be performing at the George Washington Auditorium, Phillips Academy. Mandala takes its enthusiastic audiences on a wild tour, from the solemn ceremony of a Hungarian wedding ritual to the footstomping exuberance of Appalachian fiddling and clogging. The present program also includes dances and music from such countries as Mexico, Norway, Romania, Yugoslavia, Israel and Russia, as well as spirited numbers from the American dance tradition.

Mandala, whose name means "circle of life" in Sanskrit, has grown steadily since its beginning in 1965. The troupe now gives 50 concerts a year in schools, colleges, nursing homes, concert Series and Boston's "Summerthing." In addition, Mandala has appeared in a number of Boston television programs, including a special filmed for WGBH.

As a performing group, Mandala has a well-deserved reputation for color, excitement and precision. According to Cynthia Donahue of WCRB, it is "...not only the footwork that captures the heart of the audience, but the spirit of enthusiasm and energy emanating from each and every performer — a truly professional group that has a total outlook on its art "...an outlook stemming from the pure love of dance and music, rituals as old as man himself.

Tickets may be purchased at the Department of Community Services office, 36 Bartlet St., or at posted locations throughout Andover.

The post performance reception will be sponsored by Darling Associates and the Lee Dodd Realtors. They have been friendly competitors in real estate for many years, and because of their mutual interest in the arts, are proud to be a part of the Andover Cultural Series.

Funds for Mandala Folk Dance Ensemble were provided by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities.

A Spirit Of Openness

Acting on a "reflection" from colleague Joe Finn's re-election campaign, the school committee Tuesday night voted to allow people to speak up at school committee meetings without prior request.

Committeeman Casimir Kolaski, "an early supporter," seconded the motion of such action but added that in two years on the committee, he had never once seen people who wanted to speak turned away.

The procedure of the past few years has been for interested parties to call the superintendent's office by the Friday before a meeting and officially be placed on the agenda.

Finn said he felt that action was originally taken so the school committee could familiarize themselves with the issue and be prepared to respond.

He said he would encourage people to follow that same procedure when possible, but that he had had many requests for the

Elaine Viehmann

New Chairman

meetings to be more open, and that he would support the new plan on a trial

The school committee tried to eliminate some of the confusion surrounding the building program Tuesday night, by voting to support the existing educational specifications for all three projects — East Jr. High, West Jr. High and the high school.

They also voted to reinstate the classroom addition at the high school, and to oppose any building option that would result in double sessions for secondary pupils — unless the town decides to renovate East Jr. High.

The options available to the town then, depending on how wealthy the voters feel, will be a new or renovated East Jr. High basis.

He said there would be ground rules setting a time limit on the speakers, and that they should understand that they would get no immediate action on their question.

Finn's "reflections" came during "reorganization," which also saw Elaine Viehmann elected chairman for the coming year.

"This is not a popularity contest," she noted, after her nomination by Finn and a second by Alan Doerr. "But someone has to take on the responsibility," she said, "and I know you'll all be helping."

Newcomer John Eaton was then elected secretary, and welcomed to the board — in that order.

Eaton said he had been barraged by many issues during the campaign, but would postpone his reflections until the specific subjects arose.

(the ed specs are the same for either), renovations at West Jr. High and a 20-classroom addition (seven of them for junior high pupils) and an auditorium at the high school.

The committee a few weeks ago lopped the classroom addition in an attempt to bring the total cost more in line with the $10 million they had presented to town meeting last year. That meant the ed specs would have to have been changed accordingly, with another trip to the state School Building Assistance Bureau for approval, and West Jr. High plans were affected as well.

Interior renovations for that school include the consolidation of three classrooms into the media center. Without the seven classrooms planned for ninth grade core subjects in the high school addition, West would have been severely cramped.

Furthermore, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert had taken an "all or nothing" attitude toward the high school, proposing instead a "a whole school with integrity."

Committeeman Joseph Finn said his feeling from the campaign was that people are not so concerned about cutting back to the $10 million point, as they are about the confusion. He suggested they leave them maximum flexibility for town meeting.

Joseph Howard of Livingston Circle asked how they could staff 20 new classrooms with a cutback in the budget, and the administration replied that most of the classes now exist, but that providing rooms would be "bringing them out of closets."

Mrs. Viehmann said that a health class now meets on the stage of West Jr. High or in the teachers room.

She said the idea of putting ninth graders in basic subjects at the high school was to increase the effective space at the high school, so they could make it a four-year school in the future, depending on changing enrollments.

She said the extra high school rooms would accommodate such programs as the child care class, which now meets in the food lab so there can be no food course. The small motor class now meets in the hallway, and phys ed students don't have enough space to allow them the minimum phys ed time the state recommends.

The committee's response on double sessions was primarily in the form of an advisory to the building committee and town manager on the siting of a new East Jr. High.

The committee was to consider several siting plans last night, and one of the two favorites put a new East on the exact site of the present one. That would require double sessions at West during the entire time the old school was being razed, site prepared, and a new one constructed.

Meeting Moved To May 7

The annual town meeting will be delayed two weeks until May 7.

Originally scheduled for April 26 at the Phillips Academy Cage, the pending tax cap legislation has made it necessary to move the meeting to the May date in an effort to have a clearer picture of what the town can do in carving out its fiscal responsibility for the coming year.

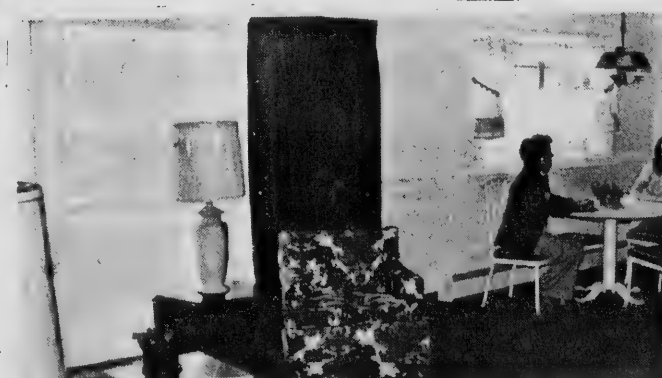

Selectmen were expected to make the move to the May 7 date official at their organizational meeting Wednesday night at Memorial Hall library.

School Issue Gets A Little Clarity

Cost implications of the total school package to be faced by town meeting this year will be provided members of the school building committee tonight.

The various alternatives, such as renovating old East Junior High vs. building a new structure, will be among the items contained in the figures and proposals to be provided by the architects.

Putting price tags on the alternatives should provide some guidance as to what direction the town should begin concentrating on, but we detect that from Monday's election results, there already is a bit of clarity coming into focus.

One school committee candidate, John Eaton, campaigned on retention of the present East Junior High as an educational facility — even to the point of disregarding state aid if necessary in the renovation costs.

When the results were announced Monday night, Eaton was the top vote getter in the school committee race.

It may be an emotional issue, but we view the retention of the present East Junior High building, either as a school or some other construction matter.

When thoughts of building a new structure were first announced, it seemed an acceptable alternative. But, when the former Punchard building became threatened by the wrecker's ball, opinion shifted and sentiment took over.

Without benefit of the cost picture, which should be forthcoming tonight, it would seem that renovation of the old East Junior high building would meet with the most popularity as of the moment.

It is reasoned that the present building is structurally sound and can be adapted to a modern educational program with extensive renovation work.

Updating of utilities to meet safety and building codes would be required and more than likely quite costly, but may be an acceptable alternative.

Monday's election victory by John Eaton is not necessarily a mandate. But those who took the time to cast their ballots, seem to have been sending a message concerning the disposition of the East Junior High school, which may have a bearing on the total school package, including auditorium and classrooms at the West Junior High school complex.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March, 1904

Women's town meeting will be held at South Church, Tuesday evening, April 12. Tickets for this event go on sale April 2 at Higgins Book Store.

Harry G. Saunders, who has been in Westville, Nova Scotia, for the past year, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Saunders on Essex St.

Notices have been posted that all who wish to try to make the Ballardvale Baseball team are requested to present their names to Michael Flaherty.

Everybody is cordially invited to the Guild House, Saturday afternoon, March 26, at 3 o'clock to see the kitchen and garden class give an exhibition of the work which they do. The mothers of the Andover Mother's club are especially invited. Tea will be served.

At the Grange hall tonight, there will be an old-fashioned dancing party. An enjoyable time is expected. The committee who have the affair in charge are James N. Patman, Samuel H. Baily, B. Frank Smith, and Robert A. Watson.

50 Years Ago — March, 1929

Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon of 40 Red Spring Road, assisted by 60 of their friends, observed their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday evening in Fraternal Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, who have been residents of Andover for about six years were married in Arbroath, Scotland, March 25, 1904.

Sunday will end the Lenten season and after a week of dull cold weather, everyone is hoping to see the sun dance on Easter morning. Special music has been arranged in observance of the church festival and unusually large congregations are anticipated.

Plans have been completed for the twentieth anniversary of the Knights of Pythias. A speaker of the Grand Lodge will be present, with entertainment and supper to be held at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, April 2, at 7:45 o'clock in Fraternal Hall.

About 40 couples attended the senior class dance at Punchard high school last Friday night. The Cavaliers furnished music for the evening. Refreshments were served.

Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Kidder of Andover were among the passengers on the Ward Line steamer which sailed Saturday from New York for Havana.

25 Years Ago — March, 1954

At a well attended loyalty dinner last Friday night at the Crystal Ballroom, a campaign to raise $150,000 for an addition to be placed in the rear of South Church was launched. An enthusiastic gathering of more than 250 church members attended.

A public meeting to discuss the teaching of elementary French in the grade schools will be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, April 1, in the Memorial Hall Library. Sponsors of the meeting, who represent all shades of opinion on the subject, feel that further discussion and study of the problem of a second language at the elementary level would be helpful.

While negotiations are still in the discussion stage, the committees considering the proposed merger of the Methodist and Congregational Churches in Ballardvale appear to be making some progress in solving the practical problems involved.

A testimonial dinner attended by 500 people was tendered former Selectman and Assessor Roy E. Hardy at the Case Memorial Cafe, Phillips Academy, last night.

10 Years Ago — March, 1969

The town's troublesome public safety center no sooner had construction under way Wednesday morning, than workmen ran into trouble. A backhoe digging in preparation for the foundation, hit a vault of unknown source and the scoop was broken.

Robert A. Watters, president of the YMCA of Greater Lawrence, announced receipt of approval by the United Fund of Greater Lawrence for a capital funds campaign to erect a new family-type facility for the Andover branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA.

Three holdover school committee members probably hoped for their first regular meeting after town meeting last week would be a speedy one, being a bit jaded from many weeks of wrestling with school budget, school expansion and school personnel needs and problems. However, Virginia Cole, Dr. Richard Katz and William A. Doherty spent an hour or so going over proposals that freshly-elected member Dr. Daniel Frishman had drawn up for committee consideration.

Andover's Chris Garry, 5' 11", 165-pound junior, has been elected Harvard's hockey captain for the 1969-1970 season by a vote of this year's lettermen.

Apollo 1 Fire Hazard Ignored 3 Astronauts Died Needlessly

WASHINGTON — The worst moment for the American space program occurred 12 years ago. A flash fire broke out aboard the Apollo space capsule. Three astronauts — Virgil Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee — died in less than 20 seconds from the searing heat and dense smoke.

Now, two space scientists have told us that the tragedy could have been averted. Seven weeks before the fire, officials were warned about the danger.

A malfunctions investigator named Jesse Copeland warned in writing that fire hazards existed on board the Apollo 1. His report was co-signed by an associate and approved by the laboratory director.

This suppressed report warned explicitly that a highly combustible coolant in the environmental control system had leaked onto a maze of wires in the space capsule. The leakage saturated the wires on four different occasions.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration experts recommended that the wires be removed, the area cleaned with distilled water and new wiring be installed. Otherwise, they warned, there could be a fire.

Other space scientists told our reporter David Henry that the spilled coolant was cleaned, but the soiled wires were not replaced. They agreed that the bundles of wire, saturated with coolant, constituted a fire hazard.

The conclusions were supported by two other unpublicized reports. These were compiled after the fire by Dr. W.R. Downs of the Houston Space Center. Yet the review board investigating the fire virtually ignored the evidence that the coolant leakage caused the fire.

James Webb, who was the director of NASA at the time, told us the fire was too complex to determine any positive explanations. Our reporters also talked to some of the review board members, who continue to insist that the coolant was not a significant cause of the tragedy.

Expensive Treaty: Government officials have been caught in one awkward lie after another until public confidence in the government has been shaken. Yet officials continue to play loose with the truth to make their policies look good.

For example, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance promised last year that the Panama Canal treaties would not "add to the burden of the American taxpayers." That's a direct quote from his Senate testimony.

This promise helped persuade the Senate to ratify the treaties. Yet Pentagon sources now tell us that Vance's statement was false, that the canal turnover will cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

Here are their rough calculations:

It should cost about $30 million to close two Army bases in the Canal Zone. The Defense Department also will begin administering facilities that were being run by the Canal Zone government. These will include hospitals and schools for American dependents. The added costs for the transfers and renovations should amount to about $63 million — $30 million for the hospitals, $33 million for the schools.

The taxpayers will also be stuck with a number of new operating expenditures, administrative fees and logistics costs. These should run about $205 million. Just the cost of moving the remains of deceased Americans out of the Canal Zone is estimated at $1.5 million.

The treaty negotiators assured the Senate last year that all expenses would be financed from canal revenues. Now they are changing their tune. And the public can be excused for wondering occasionally whom and what to believe.

Border Problem: In addition to conflicts over illegal aliens and drug smugglers, another problem has cropped up on the Mexican-American border. Airplanes approaching the airports in Brownsville, Texas and Matamoros, Mexico, keep violating each other's air space. Besides violating international law, the planes are running risks of mid-air collisions. Poor telephone communications between the airport control towers have compounded the problems of trying to control the air traffic.

Gasohol Shortage: While motorists on the East Coast worry about a gasoline shortage, Midwest drivers are concerned about a shortage of gasohol. Demand for this alternative motor fuel — a mixture of gasoline and alcohol — has skyrocketed in the Midwest, where more than 350 service stations market it. The problem is a shortage of alcohol distilleries. Only one company currently produces significant quantities of gasohol. Other distilleries are under construction, but they won't be producing the high-octane no-lead blend for at least another year. The alcohol used in gasohol mixtures can be distilled from sugar cane, sugar beets, wood wastes and even garbage.

Revolving Door: Until recently, the acting director of the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Foods was Dr. Howard Roberts. While a government bureaucrat, he directed regulation of the food industry and guarded American consumers against unhealthy food additives. Roberts recently left the FDA to become the director of science for the National Soft Drink Association — the soda pop lobby.

Headlines and Footnotes: Some employees at the Organization of American States in Washington got an unexpected holiday recently when they were ordered to go home early. Seems some Latin American bigwig wanted the parking lot cleared for the use of guests at his daughter's wedding reception ... Officials of the K-Mart store chain recently ordered their store managers to locate and burn 650,000 Easter egg baskets which had been shipped from Taiwan. Some of them, it appears, contained an unexpected bonus in the form of spider eggs.

SUPER CUT

by Lou Durazzano

Do you wear your hair long? You may be damaging it. Because long hair requires more care and effort to look nice, frequent brushing, curling and fastening can break down the protective coating of the hair shafts. To keep long hair beautiful, have it trimmed and conditioned frequently. Since sleeping on it can also be damaging, tie it or pin it back at night. Avoid brushing it too vigorously and winding it too tightly on rollers.

You'll love the bright cheerful atmosphere of SUPER CUT HAIR SALON, 93 Main St., 475-3711 and we will try to make your visit with us as relaxing as possible. Here you'll find hairstyling with imagination ... hair cutting that's "shear artistry" and permanents that are natural looking and long lasting. We carry the complete line of Redken, Jheri-mach and KMS beauty products and will recommend those we fell will best suit you. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-5, Thurs. and Fri. til 7.

Fee Increase Will Retain Programs

Rather than face a possible $25,000 budget cut, Joan Pearson of the department of community services has opted to try to raise the money by increasing fees for programs offered by the department.

"I'd rather try to deal with increased user fees than have a cut thrown at me," Pearson said. "At least then I'll have a choice about what programs to keep."

"I appreciate being given the choice," she said.

The choice was given her by town manager Jared S. A. Clark who had to pare money from all department budgets in order to stay close to capping the budget at state-mandated levels.

Pearson's department already collects fees for services, so it was given the option of increasing those fees to keep service at its current level.

Pearson said, "I'll try to spread the cost evenly."

That will mean paying more for swimming instruction, cultural series tickets and most other services provided by the department.

It might even mean paying to use town playing fields.

At a recent selectmen's meeting the possibility of charging teams to play on town fields was raised by Selectman James Abramson. At that time the money collected was to be used to reduce maintenance costs.

Pearson may want it as part of the $25,000 she needs to raise.

At the moment, Pearson said, the matter is up in the air. Final budgeting is yet to be done, and the tax cap legislation has yet to be passed.

She said that more specific information about the budget would be ready by town meeting and would be explained by the town manager.

Lights Needed

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I am always ready to give "change" a chance — it may be better than the old way. This is in reference to the traffic light at Main Street and Chestnut in downtown Andover. The change has been from a stop light to a flashing yellow or no light at all. At first I thought the flashing light was great because I could always get through when on the Main Street side. Recently, I have discovered that there is a build-up of traffic now on Main Street going in the direction of the red light at the corner of Main and Elm. Automobiles on the Chestnut St. flashing light side have a difficult time breaking into the Main Street traffic and pedestrians do not know when to cross. Perhaps this is a test on the part of the traffic department, and they have realized that a stop light is necessary so that cars and people equally have a chance to cross or ride Main Street. It appears to me that we need the green, the red, and the yellow to bring out courtesy in our automobile drivers. I would appreciate an explanation from the traffic dept.

Judy Seeche
47 Hidden Road
Andover

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

It is with bemusement that I have been following these last few weeks the continuing saga of Dr. James Kartell in his noble crusade to secure the names of the "snitches" who were inconsiderate enough to complain to law enforcement authorities about the indiscretion of his Labrador Retrievers.

Personally, it is of no matter to me whether or not Dr. Kartell receives access to the names of the complainants (even though I am sure my family name is among them) and, in fact, if knowing who his accusers were would eliminate his suspicions of sinister forces revengefully at work (and I suspect it would), disclosure would at least serve one useful purpose.

Memorial Hall Library

The Library Is Filled With Success Stories

Special events for National Library Week (April 1-7) include an Open House and Reception honoring local townspeople, on Sunday; an informal discussion with Dorothy Thompson, the artist whose prints are on display during April, on Monday; a lecture by Don Mitchell, a young, inspiring novelist, on Wednesday; and the finale of the Friday Feature Films Series, "Singin' in the Rain" — "the best Hollywood musical of all time," on Friday. The public is cordially invited to attend all events and to share in the week's celebration of the many successes emanating from Memorial Hall Library.

'The African Queen'

"The African Queen," John Huston's brilliant adaptation of C.S. Forester's novel, will be the next Feature Film at Memorial Hall Library on Friday, March 30 at 7:30 p.m. Filmed on location in the Belgian Congo, this classic movie stars Katharine Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart in an unforgettable combination of romance, comedy and adventure. Bogie won his only Oscar for his memorable portrayal of the unshaven, hard drinking skipper of the decrepit old tugboat. All films in the Film Series are open to the public without charge.

The Scarlet Letter

WGBH, Channel 2, will feature "The Scarlet Letter" on four successive evenings, April 2-5 at 9 p.m. With the support of the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Exxon Corp., they have furnished Memorial Hall Library with a supply of viewer guides which provide information on the background of the story, life in Puritan New England, the life of Nathaniel Hawthorne and the making of the TV drama. These guides, which are part of a book display on Nathaniel Hawthorne, are available to our patrons on a first come-first served basis.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

Our spring film series for pre-schoolers continues this Friday (March 30) with "Z is for Zoo," "Goggles" from the picture book by Ezra Jack Keats, and "Frederick" from the picture book by Leo Lionni. Show times for Films-on-Friday are 10:30 a.m. and again at 2 p.m.

In honor of the birthday of Hans Christian Andersen, April 2, the Children's Room has assembled a collection of his well-loved stories, biographies, as well as a number of spoken records which feature Andersen's tales.

It's not too late to enter our poster contest for National Library Week, the theme of which is "What my Library means to me." The deadline for entries is Saturday, March 31. Winners will be announced April 1 and all entries will be on display in the Library during National Library Week, April 1-7.

QUALITY AND SERVICE OUR POLICY

What does matter to me is that his cause with its noble cloak tends to draw focus away from the far more basic concerns that a number of citizens of Andover have respecting habitual violators of the leash law who are not only insensitive to the rights of others, but also scoff at the laws of the town. These are the concerns which should receive print and emphasis in your paper for they are the concerns of real citizens who are having their rights violated, uncivilly at that.

The point to be made is that when promoting a cause of freedom of access to information in the present context, it should not be championed without equal regard for others' freedoms — such as the freedom to enjoy a full night's sleep, or to sleep late (say 6 a.m.) on a weekend morning, or to have one's yard free of trespass and dog debris, or to have one's garbage undisturbed or to have one's children free of being knocked down or harassed by a bristling, snarling dog. While these freedoms are not mentioned in the Constitution (at least so I am told on good authority, unfortunately), they are more real to citizens (but probably not to the ACLU), than many of those that are: for they affect daily living. Decent folk deserve such freedom and to have their cause championed.

Be that it may, I wish to make it clear that the events in print the last few weeks tend to cast disparagingly upon the right of the afflicted to complain. This is not as it should be. For unless the real victims complain, they are reduced to conjuring up Dantesque fantasies of eventual justice or must, to use Shakespeare's words, simply bear the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. But by complaining, or to use the Bard's words again, by taking arms against a sea of troubles and by opposing end them, it is nobler in the mind. I assure you, although not very satisfying, ennobling it is.

Pee Wee's Regain Touch — Split Pair

The Andover Pee Wee A hockey team broke out of their six game scoring drought on Monday evening to register their most on-sided victory of the year in defeating Beverly 10-1. Wednesday night the locals played one of their best games of the year while dropping a heart breaking 1-0 decision to Cambridge in Wilmington League action.

Andover 10, Beverly 1

After averaging less than one goal per game during the last six encounters, Andover came out of the slump in a big way while thoroughly beating Beverly at Danvers. Leading the coring barrage were Zack Apgar with four goals and Mike DelTrecco with three tallies.

The game was not two minutes old when Jon Crawford picked up a loose puck ten feet in front of the Beverly net and fired home the first score of the game at 10:09. On the next shift, the most effective unit of the night consisting of DelTrecco, Marjerison, Bateson, Smith and Donovan (9 points) applied constant pressure immediately. DelTrecco scored his first and the actual game winner at 8:40 after being set-up by Marjerison on a fine pass from the corner. The third goal of the period was scored by Apgar, unassisted, at 7:37 on a solo rush up the left boards before cutting was scored by Apgar, unassisted, at 7:37 on a solo rush up the left boards before cutting into the center in back of the beaten defense. The period ended with Andover ahead 3-0.

The second period produced four more goals as the onslaught continued. With the pressure deep in the Beverly end, Bateson and Donovan each had successive shots on net that were kicked out. Finally, from the pile up in front, Apgar poked home with the fourth score at 9:29. Mike DelTrecco scored his second on a power play at 5:20 with only two seconds remaining on the man advantage situation. This assist went to Billy Donovan.

Beverly broke up the shut-out 26 seconds later with a goal at 4:54. However, less than a minute later, Andover had their five goal lead back when Jim Daly set-up Apgar's third of the night at 4:06 to increase the lead to 6-1 after two periods.

The third period was no better for Beverly as Andover picked up four more goals. At 9:30, Jon Crawford scored on an 80-foot slap shot. At 6:36, Marjerison again set-up DelTrecco's "hat trick" goal for an 8-1 lead. Two minutes later, Smith and LoPresti combined to set-up Apgar's fourth goal at 5:44. The final goal of the night came from defenseman Fran Ferrara who redirected a shot from the point by Jon Crawford at 4:34 to close out the scoring.

Cambridge 1, Andover 0

On Wednesday evening, Andover played one of their finest games of the year only to be beaten on a goal in the last 90 seconds. For the first period, the Cambridge goalie kept his team in the game as he turned aside shot after shot from all three Andover lines. The second and third periods were defensive struggles as both teams forechecked and backchecked exceptionally well. Andover pulled their goalie in the last minute in an attempt to get the equalizer. During this time, however, Donovan, Smith and Crawford all had shots from the point but Cambridge was able to hold on. The game ended with Apgar, Marjerison and Daly all camped in the crease waiting for a rebound that never came as the buzzer sounded. Playing very strong games on defense were Jon Crawford, Shane Smith, John Marocco, Fran Ferrara and Bill Donovan. In goal, Gibson and McDowell shared the duties and both played excellent games. Up front, Apgar, Daly, LoPresti, Bateson, DelTrecco and Marjerison also turned in strong performances.

TOWNSMAN Sports

Squirts Keep Improving

Practice and hard work are now paying dividends for the Andover Squirt A Hockey Team. After getting off to a slow start, the team has come into its own. During the last month, they have played super hockey in the "A" division of both the Wilmington and Danvers Leagues.

Andover 3, Concord N.H. 0

The Concord N.H. Squirts visited Merrimack for a non-league game with Andover. These teams had played three previous games, with Andover. These teams had played three previous games, with Andover winning one and tying two.

From start to finish Andover controlled the game. Forty-five seconds into the contest, George Heseltine, assisted by Earl Abdo, put Andover into the lead. Eight minutes later, Shannon McCabe, assisted by George Heseltine, scored to give Andover a 2 to 0 lead at the end of the first period.

The second period, although scoreless, was full of excitement as both teams had good scoring chances. Only good goaltending by Robbie Carpentier and Greg Najar kept Concord off the board.

Mosa Kaleel closed out the scoring with an unassisted goal late in the third period. Good performances were turned in by defensemen John Gangi, Paul Gilmartin and David Young, Mark Neaves, David Bartle, Ron Forbes, Steven Donovan and Ken Young also played well.

Andover 4, Triton 4

In Danvers League competition, Andover remained in third place by tying first place Triton 4 to 4. This game was full of action as both teams moved the puck up and down the ice. Triton scored 2 goals in the second period for a 2 to 0 lead and seemed headed for another win.

Andover came storming back in the third period. Mark Neaves, assisted by Ron Forbes and David Bartle, closed the gap at 2 to 1. Two minutes later, Andover tied the game at 2 to 2 when Steven Donovan set up Ron Forbes for the tying goal. Triton came right back with two quick goals and a 4 to 2 lead. Andover would not give up. With two minutes left in the game, George Heseltine fed David Bartle, who was stationed in front of the net, and he drove a low shot into the corner to bring Andover to within 1 goal. On the ensuing faceoff, Andover pulled its goalie for a sixth skater. Once again, the combination of Bartle and Heseltine clicked, and Andover tied the game with less than a minute to play.

This was a fine team effort by a group of young men who never gave up until the game was over.

Danvers 2, Andover 1

Danvers scored two first period goals and made them stand up for a 2 to 1 win in Wilmington League competition. George Heseltine, from Steven Donovan and Mosa Kaleel, scored the lone Andover goal.

Andover applied constant pressure in the third period but could not score. Strong performances were turned in by Brian Gibson, Tim Donovan, Cort Pomeroy, David Riddiford and Doug Moon.

Andover 5, Beverly 2

This was another must win for Andover. The Danvers League playoffs are only three weeks away, and Andover is tied for third, while Beverly is in second place. Andover started quickly and never let up. At 1:44 of the first period, Paul Gilmartin skated the length of the ice and drove a high shot into the net for a 1 to 0 Andover lead.

Andover carried the momentum into the second period. Constant pressure on the Beverly defense paid off with two unassisted goals by Mark Neaves and Cort

New Baseball League Forming

THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 29, 1979

Andover will field a team in the new Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth 16-18 year old League, scheduled to begin its first season of operation in mid-June.

The Andover club will be managed by Al Pelletier, with Don Rathbun and Hal Faigel the coaches.

The new league, an extension of the long-established 13-15 year old league, has definite commitments from Andover, Georgetown and two Lawrence teams as of this date.

Other towns interested in fielding teams include Methuen, Lowell and Haverhill, all of whom have been contacted informally by Greater-Lawrence League officials.

All Andover young men between the ages of 16 and 18 are eligible to participate, as long as they will not reach their 19th birthday prior to Aug. 1, 1979.

The team roster will include 18 players, and league officials are projecting a regular-season schedule of 18-24 games plus playoffs.

Andover will play its home games at the East Junior High Playstead Field, while all games against Lawrence teams will be held at the Stadium complex.

The season will run from mid-June until early August.

No definite date has yet been scheduled for tryouts. They will be held some time around mid-May, and will be publicized in the TOWNSMAN well in advance.

Anyone wishing more information on the league or Andover team may contact Pelletier or 13-15 manager Rich Harrison.

Andover Ruth officials are also in the process of strengthening the existing Andover Babe Ruth Baseball Association, with intentions of increasing the size of the membership and elected officers.

Anyone interested in joining the association is asked to contact Dick Heidt (475-6838).

There will be a general meeting of all prospective association members in late April, with the exact time and site to be publicized later.

Pomeroy.

Leading 3 to 0 Andover did not let up. Twenty-five seconds into the third period, Earl Abdoo passed to George Heseltine, who upped the score to 4 to 0. Two minutes later, Paul Gilmartin stole the puck at center ice, skated around the defense and scored his second goal of the game. Robbie Carpentier played another strong game in goal with help on defense from Mosa Kaleel, Brian Gibson and John Gangi.

Andover 5, Salem 0

Avenging an earlier loss, Andover completely dominated the game from start to finish with 2 goals in the first period and 3 in the second. The Andover goaltending tandem of Greg Najjar and Robbie Carpentier recorded their second shutout in 2 weeks. While Andover remained tied for third place in the Danvers League.

Cort Pomeroy, from Paul Gilmartin, opened the scoring at 5:39 of the first period. This was quickly followed by Steven Donovan's goal set up by Cort Pomeroy and Ron Forbes.

The second period opened with 2 Andover goals in the first minute of play. John Gangi scored with assists by Shannon McCabe and Mark Neaves, quickly followed by Shannon McCabe's goal assisted by John Gangi. Leading 4 to 0, Andover kept digging. The line of Tim Donovan, Earl Abdoo and George Heseltine applied constant pressure but could not score. Andover's fifth and final goal was scored by David Bartle.

Winthrop 1, Andover 0

This was an excellent game filled with tension and excitement. Both teams played well, and it was a shame that there had to be a loser. The game was just underway when Andover was assessed 2 minor penalties. Down 2 skaters, the penalty-killing unit of Tim Donovan, Brian Gibson and Paul Gilmartin kept Winthrop from scoring. Seven times during the game, Andover was shorthanded 1 or 2 players, and Winthrop did not score. Robbie Carpentier and Greg Najjar again played well in goal.

On a number of occasions, Andover hit the goal post but could not score.

Alaska

An impression of Alaska during its most romantic period is offered in a new exhibition at Boston's Museum of Science.

Lithographs by Fred Machetanz, who has lived in Alaska since 1935, depict goldpanners, trappers, and Eskimos in a way of life now fast disappearing. The art reflects Machetanz's interest in seeing for himself the people and places of an undeveloped wilderness. He has driven dog sleds, hunted with Eskimos, and explored the land, from the fjord-lined southeast to the tundra of the Aleutians.

At one time there was some debate over whether amber was animal, vegetable or mineral.

Sport Shop P.M. Cleaning Take Crowns

The Department of Community Services Men's Basketball League completed competition in its junior division this past Thursday evening and produced a surprise play-off champion, for the second straight year.

The Sport Shop, led by Al Eggert and Alex Palmer, dominated regular season action and entered the play-offs with a perfect 14-0 record. With the regular season championship under its belt, The Sport Shop was a heavy favorite to march right through the play-offs. However, towards the end of the season it became obvious to league observers that coach Peter Mullet's P. M. cleaning squad was playing at its best and would prove to be trouble for the junior division champs.

Both The Sport Shop and P. M. Cleaning had little trouble with their semi-final round opponents as "Shags" and the "Suns" were handily defeated in their best of three series. In the opening game of the finals, P.M. Cleaning had a five point lead over The Sport Shop at half-time and managed to fend off a strong Sport Shop second half, as P. M. squeezed out a 63-61 victory. With its back to the wall in this best of three series, The Sport Shop squad had to come up with a victory in the second game. By this point in the season, momentum had shifted to P. M. Cleaning.

The Sports Shop, with two of its play-making guards on vacation, was not a match for an inspired P. M. team as Mike

Annual Exhibit

The Department's Annual Spring Exhibit will be held on Saturday, April 28, 1-3 p.m. at the West Jr. High School. Displays from the fall and winter classes will be exhibited at this time so that people may become familiar with the variety of programs offered during the year. This exhibit is free and the public is invited to attend.

Drop-In Center

The center's calendar of events for April include a Gong Show for April 5 and a Film Festival for April 19. The Drop-In Center is open from 7:30-9:30 p.m. and is located at 13 Essex St., Andover. The Center is opened to all MR adults and is sponsored by Fidelity House, Inc. and the Andover Community Services Department.

Bowling

The Special Needs Bowling program held on Friday afternoons at the Andover Lanes will not be held on Friday, April 6 and 13 due to the Easter Holiday Break. The program's last meeting date will be on May 1.

Table Tennis Tournament

Registration continues for this year's Tennis Tournament which will be held at the West Jr. High School on Saturday, April 21. There will be both singles and doubles competition within three age groups and three different skill levels. Registration forms are available at the Hockey Shop, The Sport Shop, Andover public schools and the DCS office located in the Stowe School. The last day to sign-up for this event is Tuesday, April 17.

Volleyball Officials

Individuals qualified to officiate volleyball are being sought by the Department. These officials will be needed to referee games held on April 2 and 3 in the Town Volleyball Tournament. Persons interested should call the office.

Golf Lessons

The Department of Community Services will be sponsoring golf lessons at the Billy Max Golf School beginning on Wednesday, April 4. The school, which is located at 10 Amesbury Street (above Macartney's) in Lawrence, will offer lessons from 6:30-8 p.m. one night a week for a six week period. Andover residents will be encouraged to sign-up for lessons on Wednesday evenings. All fees and registrations will be taken on a first-come, first served basis. Class size will be limited to 30 individuals. Registration began on Monday, March 19 at the DCS office on Bartlet Street. The final day to register will be Friday, March 30. For further information, persons should contact the Community Services office.

Appointed

Augustus P. Loring, president of the board of trustees of the Peabody Museum of Salem, announces the appointment of Caroline D. Standley as director of development at the Museum. Mrs. Standley comes to the Peabody Museum from Noble and Greenough School where she has been assistant director of development since June of 1977. Before her association with Noble and Greenough, she worked for the Development Office of Radcliffe College.

Masters Swim Club Formed

The Andover-North Andover YMCA announced this week its participation in the New England Masters Swim Club, an organization which allows swimmers of all abilities to compete in mini-meets and to meet with fellow swimmers.

The mini-meets are held once or twice a month, can accommodate from 30 to 70 swimmers, and allow participants to enter as many events as they want to.

The meets are relaxed and fairly informal and allow swimmers to talk to each other about their strokes, diets and workouts.

There are now about 250 members in the program from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

For more information about how to join the program, contact the Andover-North Andover YMCA or Ed Rayna, 10A Colonial Drive, No. 2, Andover.

First Mail Order

The first mail-order house was founded in 1872 in a 12 foot by 14 foot room on North Clark Street in Chicago by Aaron Montgomery Ward. His first catalog was only a simple single-sheet price list without illustrations of the merchandise.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Slated

The Andover 13-15 year old Babe Ruth baseball team, defending Greater-Lawrence League playoff champs, will hold tryouts for the 1979 team on Saturday, April 21 and Sunday, April 22.

The Saturday session will run from 2 p.m. to approximately 4:30 p.m. at the Andover High School field, while the Sunday tryout will be from 2-4:30 p.m. at the East Junior High Playstead Field.

All Andover youngsters between the ages of 13 and 15 are eligible, as long as they will not reach their 16th birthday prior to Aug. 1, 1979.

Although several members of last year's team are returning, all 15 positions on the squad are open.

Thirteen-year-old players intending to try out for the Babe Ruth team are reminded that they may also play in the new Andover Senior League 13-year-old division during May without jeopardizing their position on the Babe Ruth team.

Andover will play a 24-game regular season schedule, plus playoffs if it qualifies. The team generally plays about 30-35 games per year.

Plans are also in the works for the team's seventh annual trip to Montreal, Canada in early July.

During the trip the Andover squad will play several games against Canadian teams, visit the "Man and His World" exhibit and large amusement area, view a Montreal Expos-Los Angeles Dodgers game, and take several recreational swims.

The team will reside at McGill University during its stay.

During the past five years Andover has won over 100 games, chalking up a 10-41-3 overall record.

The team has finished among the top three clubs in the league each of the last nine years, and has failed to make the post-season playoffs only twice in its existence.

Among the players to star for the team in recent years are Glen Verrette, Brian Twomey, Thom Lawler, Keith Verrette, Jeff Towne, Steve Fabiani, Dave Mosher,

'Night Watch'

The Bradford College Masqueraders will present a mystery thriller for their major spring production on April 5, 6, and 7.

The play is "Night Watch," which ran on Broadway for 121 performances in 1972. Its author, Lucille Fletcher, also wrote "Sorry, Wrong Number," one of the most frequently produced radio, T.V., and film dramas of all time.

Clive Barnes of the New York Times in his review of "Night Watch" described it as "a most superior thriller which, from its first bloodcurdling scream to its last charming surprise, is a first-class example of its genre."

Tickets for the 8:15 p.m. production in Denworth Hall are now on sale at the college.

A YBL Season Ends; Lakers Win Triple

The Senior Division of the Andover Youth Basketball League ended with the Lakers winning the title for the second straight year.

Final standings were:

	W-L
Lakers	9-1
Hawks	7-3
Celtics	6-4
Knicks	5-5
Kings	2-8
Nets	1-9

The top ten scorers were (alphabetically):

Glenn Acciard	Lakers
Ben Bram	Celtics
Joe Buzett	Celtics
Dennis Glynn	Lakers
Tim Hart	Hawks
Ted Liszewski	Lakers
Don Minor	Hawks
Mark Paradie	Celtics
Mike Sherman	Lakers
Connie Twomey	Lakers
Billy Vickers	Lakers

Don Minor was the leading scorer during the season.

The annual foul shooting contest was won by Dennis Glynn, with Jeff Parkal the runnerup. Tim Hart won the one-on-one tournament with Jim Lowe coming in second.

The Annual Banquet and Awards Night will be Thursday, April 5 at West Junior High. For tickets, contact Ernie Darby or Tom Glynn.

Anyone interested in helping out next year should contact Tom Glynn at the Banquet. The goals of the League next year are to balance the teams during the selection draft and to increase the number of games played during the season.

Open House

Wentworth Institute of Technology will kick-off its Diamond Jubilee Anniversary on Wednesday, April 4, with its annual Open House.

Wentworth was founded on April 5, 1904 by a bequest willed by the late Arioch Wentworth, who achieved success by his mechanical ability and wise investments in Boston real estate.

This Open House is one of an array of events that will mark the year-long 75th anniversary of the school which accounts for 76 percent of the engineering technicians graduated from accredited programs in Massachusetts and 7 percent of the national total.

Open House is open to the general public and thousands of high school students, parents, educators, and public officials will attend this event from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the 9-acre campus at 550 Huntington Ave., Boston.

Tons Discarded

In 1977 the U. S. discarded 672 million tons of iron scrap (36 million more tons than in 1975) which if recycled would have lowered pollution levels and saved energy and iron ore, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

Interchange Plan Advanced

Fifth District Congressman James M. Shannon hosted an informational meeting last Friday afternoon concerning the proposed interchange in the Lowell Junction area of Interstate 93 in Andover.

The project, which has been discussed periodically over the past ten years, has recently attracted more attention due to increased industrial activity in the three surrounding towns, Andover, Wilmington, and Tewksbury.

Justin Radlo, chief engineer of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works was available to answer questions from the local officials; Edwin Holohan, representing the Federal Highway Administration was also questioned extensively by the group.

The session's discussion centered on the preliminary requirements necessary to start the first engineering studies for the off-ramp, which would be placed midway between the Dascomb Road and Route 125 exits on I-93.

Shannon stressed the importance of a cooperative effort by the three affected towns, and promised to do all he could to expedite the project from the federal side. The project would be funded on a 75-25 basis, with the bulk of the funds coming from the Federal government.

The meeting concluded with a pledge from the state Department of Public Works to transmit a formal request to the Federal Highway Administration in order to initiate the first stage engineering study.

Shannon said that the completion of the interchange is bound to have a beneficial effect on the industrial development of all three towns, and that his office will do anything it can to facilitate the processes which exist between the state and federal agencies involved.

Attending the meeting from Andover were Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, Selectman Chairman Edward M. Harris, Selectmen James Abramson and Susan T. Poore, Rep. Gerald Cohen, Community Development Director Rhys Kear, and Industrial Development Commission Chairman Lawrence Spiegel.

Students Fight Starvation

Food is rapidly becoming the new weapon of the United States and other developed countries. The ways in which affluent countries have been gluttonously controlling world food reserves have been too long overlooked. Growing numbers of children are dying of diseases compounded by malnutrition, and many more are suffering irreparable brain damage due to a lack of protein in their diet. Prospects for their future are very grim.

This year Andover High School, along with the two junior high schools, and the Andover Council of Clergymen is sponsoring F.A.S.T. Week, March 23-April 1. Fight Against Starvation Today is a program which stimulates an awareness of the global food supply, develops a concern for the nutritional value of the specific foods, and raises funds toward the fulfillment of the basic human right of all people to food.

Throughout the week, the schools have been collecting canned goods and contributions from people who have been stimulated by the fine displays and posters students have made depicting world hunger and its effects. In the cafeterias, an optional rice luncheon was offered yesterday for the price of a regular lunch, and tomorrow an empty place lunch line will be offered.

On Sunday, April 1, there will be a F.A.S.T. Walkathon which will cover 20 miles across Andover. Registration for the "Footsteps For F.A.S.T. Walkathon" will be at The East Junior High Parking Lot at 8:30 a.m. This will be the conclusion of this year's F.A.S.T. Week.

The goal this year is to reach 10,000. All proceeds for the week will go to CARE and OXFAM, two organizations dedicated to helping the needy of the world.

Squirrels

Red squirrels weave a round nest of leaves, twigs and bark twenty inches across with a five-inch room inside. They are the most unsocial of the tree squirrels and venture only about 700 feet from the nest, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

A CLASSIC, WIDE-OPEN SPORTS CAR YOU CAN AFFORD.

MGB

Classic convertible sports cars have these things in common: a special look, functional beauty, a rare grace in motion and, for the driver, a unique feeling of sun, wind and freedom. MGB is all of these things, and more.

But while yesterday's classics are often very costly, the MGB is a living classic sports car you can afford.

The MGB has real sports car engineering underneath the good looks, engineering that has delivered Sports Car Club of America national production championships. MGB has rack and pinion steering, a short-throw four-speed stick, track-honed suspension, a snappy 1800cc engine and front disc brakes. So take our quick course in the classics, and let the wide-open MGB widen your driving horizons today.

For the name of the dealer nearest you, call these numbers toll-free (800) 447-4700, or in Illinois, (800) 322-4400.

FOR THE MGB SHIRT SHOWN, SEND $9.25 TO: MGB SHIRT OFFER, BRITISH LEYLAND MOTORING INC., LEOPARD, N.J. 07605. SPECIFY S, M, OR XL. ALLOW 4-6 WEEKS.

BUSINESS PROFILESElm Street Automotive — Towing, Repair, Road Service

It's auto inspection time again. If you need repair work done on your family automobiles to pass spring safety inspection, make your appointment now with Elm Street Automotive, 15 Elm Street, just off the square in Andover. The experienced mechanics at Elm Street Automotive will put your cars in tip-top shape.

Make your appointment early and avoid the rush as inspection deadline draws near. Elm Street Automotive can align that front end that has been driving over winter potholes, take off snow tires, solve electrical problems, do brake work, replace headlights and/or tail lights. They have a good supply of tires in stock for all model cars. And foreign car repair is a specialty!

When you need road service or towing for any reason, call Elm Street Automotive at 475-5873. They have four, that's right, FOUR wrecker trucks standing by ready to answer any call for towing on a 24-hour basis. In addition, they have a flat bed carrier for special towing jobs. They have the equipment to handle any and all towing jobs, from trucks to passenger vehicles.

The experienced mechanics at Elm Street Automotive do major and minor repairs on all makes and models of cars. Ron Abraham, owner, and his men Harry Krikorian, Leo Lynch, John and Ken Lally, offer you many years of experience, conscientious work and guaranteed satisfaction on all auto and truck repair work. As a convenience to customers, they will pick up and deliver repair work.

Whatever your automotive problems, call or drop in at Elm Street Automotive, 15 Elm Street, Andover. You will like their service, their prices and the quality of work they offer. Master Charge, BankAmericard and Texaco cards accepted.

Elm Street Automotive offers complete AAA service and can be at your service within minutes of your telephone call because they have four wreckers plus the flat bed carrier on duty 24 hours a day. For your appointment, call Elm Street Automotive at 475-5873. For towing, call 475-5873 days; or nights and holidays, call 683-2712.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

REALTOR

WHERE'S THE "SCRIVENER"?

Much of the tradition and ceremony has disappeared from the business of transferring real estate. You might enjoy learning how it used to be done in the old days.

The law has always regarded the transfer of real estate as one of the most solemn acts and thus a great deal of formality attended the transfer. In the early days of land tenure, transfer was accomplished by "livery of seizen" which literally, means transfer of possession.

The buyer and seller would go upon the land in question and there, in the presence of witnesses, the seller would take a clod of turf and a twig from a tree and hand it over to the buyer as a symbol or token of the transfer.

The transfer was then made a matter of record by having the "scrivener" (the person in the community who could write) do his thing and write out the transfer on a parchment and affix his seal.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Some people have thought that playing a flute would bring fair weather.

Award Winners Among Sacrifices

It was good news and bad news for the committee Tuesday night.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, sporting a new blue and orange "Tax" cap, told the committee that the best bargain in the whole state is sending a youngster to school in Andover.

But, he said, the level of commitment from the staff is sure to suffer if they don't know if they're going to have their jobs from year to year. And some of the award-winning programs are already tagged for possible cutting in the interest of economy.

Seifert said many of the system's programs have received critical acclaim in the past few years. For instance:

1. In 1975, the federal Office of Education chose the Andover Reading Program, designed and produced by Andover teachers, as one of the top 12 in the country — out of a total of 2400.

2. In 1977, the Office of Education provided a federal grant to Andover to disseminate the reading program. Fourteen communities have already adopted portions of it.

3. In 1975, the Andover school system was deemed best in the state for implementation of Chapter 766.

4. In 1977, the elementary library program was judged best in Massachusetts, and second best in the nation by the American Library Association.

5. In 1978, Andover received the Dalton Award from the Boston Globe for having the best athletic records in the state for both boys and girls.

Furthermore, Seifert said, the gifted and talented programs, which may be a tax cap victim, and the early childhood program, are recognized as model programs by the state Department of Education, and Andover students are achieving basic skills at a rate significantly higher than the national average.

It's a question, Seifert said, of pride versus price.

Seifert also presented figures showing Andover's per pupil costs far below the state average.

In 1974-75, he said, Andover's per pupil cost was $1360, whereas the statewide average was $1379 and the average of the highest 10 systems in the state was $2088. In 1975-76, the corresponding figures were $1393 for Andover, $1485 and $2320, and in 1976-77, $1552, $1647 and $2611.

In 1977-78, he said, Andover's per pupil cost was $1693, the state average, $1790, and the average of the 10 highest schools in the northeast region alone, $1961.
